ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE LOCAL ARRANGEMENTS

The organization of the XII World Congress of Sociology is carried out by the International Sociological Association, ISA, in collaboration with the Federation of the Spanish Sociological Associations, FASEE, through the Spanish Organising Committee, CECOMS, set up by the latter (see ISA Bulletin 51 for more information about CECOMS).

The ISA Secretariat is responsible for the organization of the academic program of the Congress, the preparations of the ISA administrative meetings and Congress registrations.

CECOMS is concerned with the proper execution of all local arrangements. IBERCOLOR was appointed an official congress travel agency and IBERIA an official airline carrier.

CONGRESS VENUE

The XII World Congress of Sociology will be held at the campus of the Universidad Complutense in Madrid, city district named Moncloa. It is centrally located and well connected by city buses and the underground (line 6, station "Ciudad Universitaria"). Sessions will be held simultaneously in four buildings located around Plaza de Ramón y Cajal: Faculty of Medicine, Stomatology, Pharmacy and Mass Communication. The only exceptions are the Opening and Closing Plenary Sessions which will take place in the Congress Palace in the center of Madrid. All Faculties have restaurants and cafeteria service.

HOTELS

Hotels have been blocked by IBERCOLOR, the official Congress travel agency, in all price categories (see Accommodation Form) ranging from student dormitories to luxury class hotels. Student dormitories, called Colegios Mayores, offer single and double rooms, most of them with shower. Majority of dormitories are within walking distance from the Congress venue. Hotels, however, are located downtown therefore it will be necessary to use city transportation to reach the Congress venue.

There is a limited number of rooms booked in each category. Therefore we urge all participants to make their reservations as soon as possible. Bookings, inquiries and special requests should be addressed to

CURRENT SOCIOLOGY

Asociación Internacional de Sociología / La sociologie contemporaine

Each issue of this unique journal is devoted to a comprehensive trend report on a topic of interest to the international community of sociologists. Authors review current trends and tendencies in all areas of sociological work - theories, methods, concepts, substantive research and national or regional developments. The aim is to review new developments, to discuss controversies, and to provide extensive bibliographies. From time to time, Commentaries on Trend Reports are published in subsequent issues of the journal. Recent reports have focused on industrial and post-industrial sociology, the sociology of humour, agrarian relations and modes of production in the Middle East, sex roles, and inequalities of class and sex.

Issues are published in French or English, but a text in one language is always accompanied by an extensive résumé in the other. CURRENT SOCIOLOGY is an official journal of the International Sociological Association. Its main aim is to review international developments in the discipline and to provide a forum from which professional sociologists from all countries can communicate with the widest group of colleagues.

SOCIOLOGIE CONTEMPORAINE est une revue unique en son genre. Chaque numéro est consacré exclusivement à la présentation d'un rapport-synthèse sur la recherche dans un champ ou sur un thème sociologique en particulier. Ces rapports-synthèse sont conçus de manière à ce que chaque numéro de la Revue puisse être intéressant pour des sociologues travaillant à l'intérieur d'un large éventail de champs spécialisés puisqu'ils mettent l'accent sur les concepts, les théories, les problèmes et les méthodes. Ces rapports-synthèse fournissent une vue d'ensemble en discutant des recherches les plus importantes réalisées sur le thème choisi à travers le monde, et en présentant une bibliographie sélective des travaux des principaux auteurs sur la scène internationale. Tout en synthétisant les contenus et en contribuant à la clarification conceptuelle, ces rapports se veulent un forum où des démarches méthodologiques et théoriques peuvent être évaluées et des nouvelles orientations signalées. En tant que publication officielle de l'ISA, le but principal de la revue LA SOCIOLOGIE CONTEMPORAINE est de rendre compte des développements internationaux de la discipline et d'encourager les sociologues de métier de tous les pays à entrer en contact et à communiquer avec le plus grand nombre possible de collègues.

Each of the five issues of SA contains the following: a brief user's guide; a Table of Contents consisting of 33 major and 79 subcategories into which sociological subjects are categorized; a subject index; an author index; a source index; a supplement International Review of Publications in Sociology - consisting of a bibliography of books reviews taken from the journals abstracted in the same issue; some issues also contain Supplement(s) consisting of abstracts of congress papers.

Selection and coverage: three types of journals have been distinguished in the following order of priority:

- Type 1 - journals published by sociological associations, groups, faculties and institutes; and periodicals containing the word "sociology" in their title. These are abstracted fully, irrespective of language of publication.
- Type 2 - journals from such related areas as anthropology, economics, education, medicine, community development, philosophy, statistics, political science, etc. Such journals are abstracted selectively.
- Type 3 - journals from the humanities and journals of general circulation wherein scholars and laymen publish discussions or criticism of sociology and sociological topics. These journals are abstracted selectively.

SA desires to receive an abstract together with a reprint of the document itself (article, monograph, essay, book). Publishers and editors are urged to send copies of new publications for abstracting, or to initiate the preparation of abstracts on forms supplied gratis on request.

Other services and publications available:

- Information entered into the database since 1963 is available online to information professionals from BRS (file label SOCA), Data-Star (file label SOCA), and Dialog (file 37)
- Sociosearch - a service offering researchers and librarians an opportunity to consult with information specialists who answer research questions with fast comprehensive searches of SA and related databases:
- Social Planning/Policy, and Development Abstracts (SOPODA) - published since 1979 as a response to the expressed needs of scholars and educators, for a compression of the applied sociology and social science literature into an easily accessible format;
- Note Us - a free newsletter to facilitate communication between the producers of SA and its several thousands of users;
- A slide/tape show Sociological Abstracts - in Print and Online offering information and instruction on use of this comprehensive sociological database. The presentation is available for purchase ($70) or it can be borrowed for a two-week period, at no charge.
- A manual - a free brochure - Your Guide to Searching Sociological Abstracts using a Personal Computer;
- The now completed first edition of the SA Thesaurus of Sociological Terms is being used to index all SA and SOPODA records; Dialog Information Services will mount the online thesaurus;

WORLDWIDE COMPETITION FOR YOUNG SOCIOLOGISTS

by
Daniel Bertaux, Project Director

The Worldwide Competition for Young Sociologists that the I.S.A. initiated in 1987 has proved quite successful. We received 335 essays from all over the world. They were evaluated by fourteen separate juries: one for each of the competition's ten languages, and four extra ones for English or French as second languages. Most of the juries have already sent us the results of their evaluation, which is no small achievement, given the short time and the large number of essays some of their members had to read.

The list of the finalists who have won a given jury's Competition is given below. They are called finalists since their essays will take part in a final, worldwide round, out of which the five very best essays will be chosen. Meanwhile the jury presidents are busy inviting all the finalists to take part in the next World Congress of Sociology; and we also hope to be able to welcome them one week before the Congress in the mountains near Madrid. While the I.S.A. is unable to cover their travel expenses it is doing its very best to help each of them to find necessary funds.

Who are the 335 young sociologists who wrote an essay for the Competition, and what did they write about? It is too early to answer the second question; but the participation can be described with some figures that show unexpected phenomena.

Participants belong to no less than 64 countries, and perhaps as many languages. Among the mother tongues one finds of course the Competition's ten 'official' languages: English, French, Spanish (the three I.S.A. languages) and also Arabic, Chinese, German, Italian, Japanese, Portuguese and Russian. One finds also, as we expected, practically all European languages: Slavic languages, Dutch, Greek, Finnish, Hungarian, and some Asian languages such as Hindi, Bengali, Tamil, Korean. But one also finds young intellectuals whose mother tongues are Lithuanian, Estonian, Kazakh, Malayalam, Nepali, Oriya, Tagalog, Ibibio, Igbo, Isoko, Kanuri, Shona, Siswati, Twi, or Yoruba (4 essays). This is enough to show the great motivation to participate among young intellectuals who usually find it difficult to take part in I.S.A. activities.

The statistical distribution of papers by language and thus by jury is the following:

ENGLISH, first language = 36. ENGLISH, second language: Asia = 27; Africa = 14; Europe = 43.

FRENCH, first language = 8. FRENCH, second language = 19.

SPANISH = 50. ARABIC = 9. CHINESE = 11. GERMAN = 36. ITALIAN = 13. JAPANESE = 12. PORTUGUESE = 24. RUSSIAN = 33. Total = 335.

The distribution is obviously not representative of the population of young sociologists worldwide: the proportion of participants from 'center' (developed) countries is much smaller and the proportion from 'peripheric' countries substantially higher. This bias is first of all a consequence of our own decision, explicitly stated in the text announcing the essays from Third World scholars. Indeed we tried hard to reach out for young graduates in developing countries, while we kept the existence of the Competition rather confidential in, say, the United States or Western Europe. Also the prizes we were able to offer - Madrid, visibility, publication - may have presented more value for young scholars in the periphery than in the centre. As a result, only 17 papers come from the USA, 4 from Great Britain, 4 from France, 5 from Spain (2 in Spanish and 3 in English), none from Sweden or Norway. From the Federal Republic of Germany however, 20 papers were sent, and 13 from the GDR; 13 also from Italy. 42 papers come from the Soviet Union (32 in Russian and 10 in English), 12 from Bulgaria (7 in English, 3 in French, 1 in German and 1 in Russian); 9 from Czechoslovakia. Brazil sent 23 essays, India 16, Mexico 13, Argentina 12, Japan 12, China 9, Nigeria 8, South Africa 7, Chile 5, Colombia 2.

As one may have already guessed, most juries - which were defined by language, not by geography - received essays from a wide variety of countries. For instance the jury 'English as second language Europe' received 43 essays from 14 countries, among which (it came as a surprise) 10 from Soviet Union, 9 from Czechoslovakia, 7 from Bulgaria, 3 from Spain, 1 from Turkey, etc.

The jury 'French as second language' got essays from formerly French-speaking Africa but also from Egypt, Hungary, Uruguay or Japan. The jury for Arabic got papers from Algeria, Morocco, Syria, Tunisia, Jordan, but also from France.

What this shows is that many young scholars are already part of an international culture, as they either have learned sociology abroad or have some knowledge of foreign journals, and of foreign cultures. No need to say this is a very positive phenomenon, not only for the advancement of research but also for the mutual understanding of cultures.

The 335 essays received in Paris and examined by the 14

juries of the Competition represent 64 countries.
