

Call for Papers

Studies in Ethnicity and Nationalism, a tri-annual, fully refereed journal published jointly by the Association for the Study of Nationalism and Ethnicity and Wiley-Blackwell, invites the submission of high-quality interdisciplinary articles on issues pertaining to nationalism, ethnicity and related themes. The editors are particularly interested in submissions for a special issue on Ethnicity, Nationalism and Education. Examples of relevant themes include:

- Hegemonic education and ethnic minorities
- Cultural autonomy and education
- Disciplining citizens through education
- Schools and nationalist education
- Educational attainment and xenophobia
- Education and nation-building in developing countries

The editors welcome submissions of work in progress as well as contributions from established scholars, research students, post-doctoral fellows and lecturers in the early stages of their career. For submissions to be considered for publication in the special issue please ensure your paper reaches us by 31 August 2012. The word limit is 8,000 words, excluding bibliography and references. All papers must be submitted on-line via <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/sena> . All inquiries can be addressed to the editors at sen@lse.ac.uk .
