

RC 31- Inter- Congress- Meeting à Aix- en- Provence

« The Mediterranean: between passage, movement, settlement and detention »

Session no.1: migration- general thoughts, new tendencies

Chair: Marco Martiniello, University of Liège, Belgium

1. David Bartram, University of Leicester, UK:
« Immigration and Happiness »
2. Ali Bensaad, Marseille, France :
« Réseaux sociaux et ancrages territoriaux des migrations subsahariennes au Maghreb »
3. Jane Freedman, Université Paris I, France:
« Protecting the victims of trafficking in the Mediterranean Region: are the new policies really working? »
4. Naoto Higuchi and Nanako Inaba, University of Tokushima, Japan
« Learning to Labour, Trapped to consumers – Adaption and Alienation among Muslim Migrant Workers in Japan »

Session no.2: Illegal Migration and boarder control within the EU

Chair: Gustavo Verduzco, University of Mexico

1. Frendehl Warner, University of Canterbury, New Zealand
« Migrant fatalities in the Mediterranean: an examination of EU common policy on irregular migration and its commitments to maritime and refugee law »
2. Elvan Gevrek, Fatih University, Greece
« Turkish struggle with illegal migration under the EU membership »
3. Dr. Nick Mai, ISET London Metropolitan University, Britain
« Minors and Young Migrants' Involvement in Errant Mobility and Sex Work within the EU »
4. Thomas Macias, University of Vermont, USA
« Immigrant Generations and Citizenship: a comparative Perspective on France and the United States »

Session no.3: Israel as an immigrant country

Chair: Catherine Wihtol de Wenden, CERI Sciences po. Paris; president of RC 31

1. Dr. Rachel Sharaby, Ashkelon Academic College, Israel
« Immigrants from Maghreb in Israel: Ethnic Revival and Movement from the Margin to the Cultural Center»
2. Rebeca Raijman and Adriana Kemp, PhD University of Haifa, Israel
« Labor Trafficking in Israel - the role of the States, Employers and Manpower Agencies»
3. Rakefet Sela- Sheffy, Tel Aviv University, Israel
« Central- European Immigrants in the Mediterranean: German Jewish immigrants in British- ruled Palestine during the 1930s »

Session no.4: Greece and Albania, transit or settlement countries?

Chair: Ali Bensaad, Marseille

1. Martin Geiger, University of Osnabrueck, Germany
« Migration Management in Albania: Mapping and Evaluating Outside Invention »
2. Apostolos G. Papadopoulos, Hapokopio University, Athens, Greece
« Adoption and Flexibility of Immigrant Labour in Mediterranean Rural Labour Markets – a comparative analysis of two rural coastal localities in the Peloponnese »
3. Despina Papadopoulou, University of Panteion, Athens, Greece
« La Grèce, une société de passage ou une nouvelle société d' intégration des immigrants »
4. Dr. Effie Fokas, London School of Economics and Panteion University, Greece
« Nuancing patterns of integration: case study of a Greek town »

Session no.5: Transnational networking

Chair: Han Entzinger, Erasmus University Rotterdam, Past President of RC 31

1. Maurizio Ambrosini, University of Milan, Italy
« Entreprendre entre deux mondes: le transnationalisme économique des migrants en Italie »
2. Dr. Carmen Bulzan, Université Ecologique de Bucarest, Roumanie
« Les conséquences de la migration des roumains sur la vie de la famille »
3. Marco Martiniello, University of Liège :
« Les pratiques transnationales des Marocains et des Chinois de Belgique »
4. Dana Diminiscu, MSH Paris, France:
« Exploration Atlas diaspora numerique »

Session no.6 – Russia and Eastern Europe

Chair: Anne de Tinguy, CERI Sciences po. Paris [not confirmed yet]

1. Sergey V. Ryazantsev, Russian Academy of Sciences, Moscow, Russia
« Labour migration from Russia and the new Russian diaspora in the countries of the Mediterranean »
2. Vladimir Petrov, « Motivation and Social Characteristics of Potential of Labour Migration to Southern Europe from the Russian Region »
3. Lena Bardina- Vigier, N.K. Kharkiv National University, Ukraine
« Adaption Factors of Foreign Students to the new socio- cultural condition »
4. Liudmila Kirpitchenko, Monash University, Melbourne, Australia « Work- and study-related experiences of academic migrants [Eastern Europe to Australia] »
5. Hripsime Ramazyan and Karine Avetisyan, Yerevan State Linguistic University, Armenia:
« Integration or Marginalization: The Problem of Identity, Armenia » OR « The EU and the Mediterranean [Armenia]: Partnership or Myth »

Session no.7 - Return Migration

Chair: Maurizio Ambrosini, University of Milan

1. Glen David Kuecker, DePauw University, Indiana, USA
« The Allienation of Return Migration: A Guatemalan Case Study » [not confirmed yet]
2. Sofiane Bouhdiba, University of Tunis, Tunisie

« The Tunisian NGO s face to the return of the illegal migrants from Southern Europe»

3. Dr. Lilach Lev Ari, Bar Ilan University; Israel:

« Will they stay at Home? Gender Differences among Return Israeli Migrants »

Session no.8 - Aspects of migration in France - from integration to postcolonial studies

Chair: David Bartram, University of Leicester, UK

1. Foued Nasri, CERI Paris, France : « Le champ politique des sans-papiers en France : clivages, mobilisation et modalités de regroupement au niveau national et européen »
2. Giulia Fabbiano, Italy : « Comparé : Recompositions migratoires postcoloniales entre l'Algérie et la France »
3. Giovanna Tattolo, sciences po. Paris : « Migrations des femmes et marché du travail dans les pays Euro- méditerranées : une analyse compare entre la France et l'Italie »
4. Claire Schiff, University of Bordeaux II, France
« Migrant youth in France: unravelling the influence of local context, ethnicity and public policy on the prospects of newly settled adolescents from non- European countries » [not confirmed yet]

March 10th, 2008