The ISA BULLETIN is the official publication of the Secretariat of the International Sociological Association. Editor: Izabela Barlinska. Cover design: John Lioni.

Three issues per year appear in Spring, Summer and Autumn with an average printing of 6000 copies. The ISA BULLETIN is distributed free of charge to members of the ISA.

Deadlines for submission of items of interest to our members are:

Spring issue: January 1      Summer issue: June 1      Autumn issue: October 1

Published by the International Sociological Association under the auspices of the ISSC and with the financial assistance of UNESCO. UNESCO subvention 1984-85/DG/7.6.2/SUB.16 (SHS)

Printed by de Boer-Cuperus Ltd., Utrecht, The Netherlands

Now that some of you are perhaps already thinking of making travel arrangements for New Delhi, we want to stress here once again that Air India is our official carrier, and TCI is our official Indian travel agent arranging all accommodation and tours. On the back of the Bulletin we have presented more information about the Air India and TCI offices abroad.

However, you may not even need these addresses yourself - except to ask for leaflets about touristic destinations in India - since we have asked your national association to contact Air India and arrange group travel with them at highly competitive rates. At this stage, such arrangements for North America and Western Europe have already been finalized, while Air India offices worldwide have been informed about our congress and have been asked by headquarters to give all possible cooperation. So please contact your national association before making any definitive arrangements yourself.

Moreover, Air India headquarters guarantee seats for everyone intending to participate in the congress and will also reckon with desires for individual flight dates - since they also want to spread the congress traffic - for those booking the pre- and/or post-congress tours mentioned in ISA Bulletin no. 38.

We have received a number of requests to acknowledge the receipt of mail. We literally receive thousands of abstracts, programmes and other assorted correspondence. To conserve the modest funds at our disposal for other purposes, it was decided that we should not write letters only to acknowledge receipt of something. We very much regret that financial constraints have forced us to take this decision.

Registration and Accommodation & Tours forms have been distributed. Additional copies are available from the ISA Secretariat, or may be made by photocopy.

15 June 1986 is the deadline for the reduced registration fees and for room reservations.

A question has been raised about the definition of "ISA members" and "non-members". Let us clarify that "ISA members" are those who have paid individual membership dues to the ISA for the year 1986. All others are "non-members".

Scientific Programme.

Although the deadline of October 1st, 1985 is now well past, a certain number of programmes for sessions in the XIth World Congress of Sociology have not been received by the Secretariat. We urge all those session organizers who have not already done so to send us their complete programme immediately. This appeal is addressed to those responsible for Symposia, Research Committee (RC), Working Groups (WG), Ad Hoc Groups (AHG), Ad Hoc Sessions (AHS), and Special Sessions by other associations (SSO). The information presented below rectifies and completes that published in ISA Bulletin 37 (Spring 1985). We list only the titles of sessions and the names, addresses of their chairperson/organizers. The names and addresses of authors and titles of their papers will be published only in the final Congress Programme Book to be distributed in New Delhi.

Abstracts and reproduction of papers.

The deadline for receiving the abstract of papers accepted for presentation at the XIth World Congress, by the ISA Secretariat in Amsterdam, is March 1st, 1986. Only abstracts received on time will be printed in the special issue of "Sociological Abstracts" included in the Congress participant's kit. Please note that each abstract form has to be signed by your session organizer/chair.

The ISA Secretariat will not collect papers. A reproduction centre will be organized by the Indian National Organizing Committee (INOC) in one of the congress hotels. Authors are requested to deposit 5 copies of their papers at the centre, not later than Monday, August 18th, 1986. Papers will be reproduced on request for other participants at ca. US $3.00 per copy.

Each issue of this unique journal is devoted to a comprehensive 'Trend Report' on a topic of interest to the international community of sociologists. Authors review current trends and tendencies in all areas of sociological work - theories, methods, concepts, substantive research and national or regional developments. The aim is to review new developments, to discuss controversies, and to provide extensive bibliographies. From time to time, 'Commentaries on Trend Reports' are published in subsequent issues of the journal. Recent reports have focused on industrial and post-industrial sociology, the sociology of humour, agrarian relations and modes of production in the Middle East, sex roles, and inequalities of class and sex.

Issues are published in French or English, but a text in one language is always accompanied by an extensive resume in the other. CURRENT SOCIOLOGY is an official journal of the International Sociological Association. Its main aim is to review international developments in the discipline and to provide a forum from which professional sociologists from all countries can communicate with the widest group of colleagues.

LA SOCIOLOGIE CONTEMPORAINE est une revue unique en son genre. Chaque numéro est consacré exclusivement à la présentation d'un rapport-synthèse sur la recherche dans un champ ou sur un thème sociologique en particulier. Ces rapports-synthèse sont conçus de manière à ce que chaque numéro de la Revue puisse être intéressant pour des sociologues travaillant à l'intérieur d'un large éventail de champs spécialisés puisqu'ils mettent l'accent sur les concepts, les théories, les problèmes et les méthodes. Ces rapports-synthèse fournissent une vue d'ensemble en discutant des recherches les plus importantes réalisées le thème choisi à travers le monde, et en présentant bibliographie sélective des travaux des principaux auteurs sur la scène internationale. Tout en synthétisant les contenus et en contribuant à la clarification conceptuelle, ces rapports se veulent un forum où des démarches méthodologiques et théoriques peuvent être évaluées et des nouvelles orientations signalées. En tant que publication officielle de l'A.I.S., le but principal de la revue LA SOCIOLOGIE CONTEMPORAINE est de rendre compte des développements internationaux de la discipline et d'encourager les sociologues de métier de tous les pays à entrer en contact et à communiquer avec le plus grand nombre possible de collègues.

INTERNATIONAL SOCIOLOGY

JOURNAL OF THE INTERNATIONAL SOCIOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION
ASSOCIATION INTERNATIONALE DE SOCIOLOGIE

A recently established journal of the ISA will publish papers which deserve world-wide circulation and which reflect the research and interests of the international community of sociologists. All branches of the discipline and all regions of the world are to be represented in its pages. The first year of publication is 1986 and four issues of 112 pages are planned a year (March, June, September, December).

The journal will provide a publication opportunity for papers with international, cross-cultural and comparative interest, where the results of work in one location or world are worth conveying to sociologists in the world at large and in many fields. It is intended that the journal should be representative of widely different orientations and national and cultural backgrounds.

It will be published in the English language, but papers first written in other languages can be considered for translation if the Editor receives an English summary with the text.

Papers to be considered for publication should be sent to

SAGE Studies in International Sociology

sponsored by the International Sociological Association/ISA

This Series was established by the ISA in 1974 in place of the transactions of World Congresses of Sociology, which had been published since the Association's foundation in 1949.

The Series contains topical volumes based on work presented in the various sessions of World Congresses and reflecting the scientific activities of the ISA's Research Committees.

The books contain a selection of papers chosen for their scientific quality, their international representativeness and their relevance to the various debates currently taking place in the discipline.

PERSPECTIVES ON SOCIOLOGICAL THEORY
edited by S.N. Eisenstadt, Hebrew University of Jerusalem, and H.J. Helle, Munich University

This important and much needed two-volume work takes stock of the new approaches in sociology which have developed since the 1960s. It demonstrates the convergence of macro- and micro-sociology, and the recognition of problems common to all areas of sociological endeavour.

Macro-Sociological Theory and its companion volume, Micro-Sociological Theory, address three major shifts within sociological theory. First, institutional orders and their dynamics are increasingly seen as constructed by activities of different actors, both individuals and groups. This is reflected in a shift to the analysis of the processes and mechanisms through which the social order, both at macro- and micro-level, is constructed. Second, and closely connected to the analysis of the construction of social institutions, is a greater emphasis on the autonomy of the major social actors. Third, is the new focus on the dimension of power and the symbolic construction of reality in the creation of the institutional order. The two volumes treat these major theoretical issues in a variety of ways and from different points of view, confronting in the process problems that are common to all forms of sociological analysis.

The international community of family sociologists is deeply shocked at the news of the death of Professor Reuben Hill. Although a part of Reuben Hill's activity belongs to the history of sociology, nevertheless due to his recent scientific activity, his new important contributions to the development of sociological theory and methodology, we were so much accustomed to his presence in the scientific life that we were unprepared for his departure, despite his age. It is symbolic that death had put an end to his long career while he was engaged in a new teaching and advising tour abroad.

For historians of sociology his books and articles will give ample opportunity to evaluate the importance of Reuben Hill's contribution to the development of modern sociology, but the impact of his personality would be overshadowed to measure his importance only through the effect of his publications on our thinking. As professor, his lectures made an unforgettable impression on us: he was and will be an example regarding the scientific attitude we want to follow. As a research director he started many investigations using new, innovative approaches which diversified the aspects and methods of family research. As politician of science, as diplomat of sociology his importance in the development of sociology is second to none. The Minnesota Family Research Center under his leadership was not only a center for American family sociologists but it has made Minneapolis the holy city in that branch of sociology for scholars of other nations as well. The spread of family sociology in Europe is to a very great extent due to those, who had the opportunity to stay for a longer period at that Center.

With the growing interest towards family sociology in many countries Reuben Hill took the next logical step by setting up a constant international organization of family sociologists in the framework of the ISA. The creation of the Research Committee on Family Research (CFR) in 1959 gave an example to sociologists of other fields of sociology, and in this way Reuben Hill contributed to the overall development of international sociology. It was a logical consequence of his work to be elected president of the ISA for the period 1970-74, and then an Executive Committee member in the years 1974-78.

ISA and CFR started their activities as organizations of American and Western European sociologists, now both serve as a framework of sociologists in all countries of the world. In the crossing of the former borders and dividing lines Reuben Hill's role was primordial and that is why we have to mourn at his death not only an outstanding scholar, a founder of a scientific school, but also a statesman who brought scholars of different countries together and taught them the ways of working together for better understanding in our world.

Reuben Hill was born in Utah, USA, 1912. His religious affiliation brought him to Europe as a missionary in his youth, where he was sent to the Wallon minority area in Belgium in the period of economic depression. More than a missionary, he there became an observer, a sociologist. His very methodological and inventive mind is demonstrated by the way he succeeded in building contact with the local population. His secret was to call repeatedly at the same door, the same day of the week, exactly the same hour. In applying this method he made people expect him.

When he was 26 he already was teaching at the University of Wisconsin (1938-1942). Followed by positions at: South Dakota 1942-1944, Iowa State College 1944-1949, University of North Carolina and finally University of Minnesota. The University of Minnesota became a part of him as he became a part of it, being appointed as a Regents Professor. He was the founder and director of the Family Studies Center, which became the Mecca for family sociologists.

Reuben Hill introduced to Europe the interactional approach at a time when family sociology in Europe was almost exclusively institutional and heavily historic. He had the young assistants and students in Leuven replicate the Blood and Wolfe study on husbands and wives, which eventually was published and actually does constitute the very first interactional study in Europe. The study subsequently was replicated in France, in Greece, and in many other European countries.

Reuben Hill made his stay in Belgium instrumental for establishing contacts and stimulating family research all over Europe, East and West. Through his contacts, the very first international seminar in sociology ever held in the USSR, eventually took place in 1972 after long years of preparation. Reuben's diplomatic way in succeeding to bring together scholars not only belonging to different but opposing ideologies, was not based on human relations technique but resulted from a very deep human understanding and almost intuitive empathy. He invested a lot of time, energy and money in maintaining his contacts.

An honorary degree in Leuven 1970, a special plenary session at the NCFR Washington meeting 1982, an award (Reuben Hill award) for the best research piece carrying his name, are some of the signs of deep respect and appreciation the academic community bestowed on him, and which he accepted with joy, some glimpse of humor, making his proudness tempered by a constant awareness of relativity.

Reuben Hill's sudden death, September 21, 1985, in Oslo Norway came in the middle of his activities and plans for the future. He was to come to Belgium and Sweden early '86. Many of us will miss him and many of us carry on his work.
