VIENNA, AUSTRIA, JULY 10-14, 2016

BIOGRAPHY AND SOCIETY

RESEARCH COMMITTEE 38 OF THE ISA

NEWSLETTER/DECEMBER 2015

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENCY

December 2015

Dear Colleagues,

Since the last newsletter in July, our major activity focused on compiling the program for the ISA Forum Conference in Vienna, July 10-14, 2016. By end of September, we were very happy and also overwhelmed by the huge amount of 120 abstracts, which were submitted to our sessions, including the Joint Sessions with other RCs. At the one hand, it shows the attractiveness and relevance of the topics, which were proposed for sessions. On the other hand, that gave a hard time to those who had to deal with up to 22 abstracts submitted to their session. Fortunately, ISA allowed every RC to allocate two additional sessions, which gave us the chance to split the most crowded ones as not to have to reject too many interesting paper proposals. You can see the result of our joint effort in this newsletter, where you find those contributors and titles of proposed papers which were accepted to be presented, either orally or as distributed paper.

Furthermore, our RC has the opportunity to participate in a Common Session organized by ISA as plenary session. Thankfully, Gabriele Rosenthal has agreed to contribute to this event with a thought provoking talk based on her research on illegalized migrants in Europe who come from Syria and the sub-Saharan countries, titled "Challenges of Biographical Research".

We will let you know about more details concerning timetables and room allocation as soon as the conference comes close. Meanwhile, please keep in mind that the registration deadline for all presenters is April 5, 2016! This is a very strict deadline, which cannot be extended. It is also the 'early bird' deadline for those who just want to attend the conference without a presentation.

You can find all relevant information on the following website: <http://www.isa-sociology.org/forum-2016/>

In case you have any question, please do not hesitate to get in touch!

We very much look forward to this coming soon occasion to meet as many of you as possible.

For now, we send season's greetings and wish peaceful and relaxing holidays!

Roswitha Breckner, Lena Inowlocki,
Hermilio Santos, Maria Pohn-Lauggas

Membership fees

Please remember to pay your membership fee. To apply for membership or renew ISA and/or RC affiliation, please use the membership form online: <https://isa.enoah.com/Sign-In>

The membership fees by the RC38 for 4 years are (see ISA regulations):

Regular members	U$ 40
Students and members from countries B and C	U$ 20

If you have any questions concerning the membership please contact Maria Pohn-Lauggas for advice: maria.pohn-lauggas@univie.ac.at

The deadline for the next Newsletter is at the end of May 2016.

Please send us:

- ⇒ A short paper (3-7 pages) on a topic you are currently working on
- ⇒ A presentation of your current project
- ⇒ Some reflections on your experiences of teaching biographical approaches and methods
- ⇒ Reports or some notes about conferences you have attended
- ⇒ General reports about activities in the field of biographical research in your institution, university, country, continent
- ⇒ Interesting calls for papers for conferences, workshops, summer schools
- ⇒ New publications from you, also in your respective native language
- ⇒ Any other thought or information you would like to share.

Send your contribution directly to:

The year 2016 marks an important anniversary for sociology as 50 years have passed since Peter L. Berger and Thomas Luckmann published their work: "The Social Construction of Reality".

This book influenced not only the sociology of knowledge but sociological theory formation in general. Furthermore, it had an impact on the discourse in other disciplines: Social constructivism has become the label of a widespread way of thinking in the very diverse settings within the social sciences, the humanities as well as in manifold trans-disciplinary studies. On the occasion of this anniversary, the International Symposium Social Constructivism as Paradigm? 50 Years of Social Construction of Reality 28 -30 April 2016

RESEARCH ANNOUNCEMENTS

The European Sociological Association Research Network "Biographical Perspectives on European Societies" has created a Facebook Group with the same name.

The purpose of the group is to help the 'Biography' Research Network's members to keep in touch and further the Network's aims of promoting scholarly exchange and creative collaboration between sociologists, social scientists generally and others with an interest in the use of biographical perspectives to understand social reality.

As well as helping you keep up with whatever is going on, we hope that people will make use of the group in a variety of ways. For instance:

- * Posting announcements of interest to biographical researchers (such as upcoming conferences or seminars, new publications, PhD scholarships or postdocs, etc.);
- * Uploading documents such as working papers or other 'think pieces' in order to get the reactions & comments of colleagues;
- * Posting what's on your mind biographically or making comments about what has been put up by others;
- * Seeking like-minded colleagues who might be able to collaborate with you on a common research interest or proposal.

You need to be on Facebook to join the group. Use Facebook's Search facility to search for the group's title: Biographical Perspectives on European Societies. Then go to the group's page and click on 'Join group'.

The group presently is an Open Group, so you will become a member as soon as a current member approves your request. This should happen quickly.

The Palestinian population represents often a homogeneous image of their own nation. However, at a closer look, this proves to be deceptive and fragile in itself. To analyse the conflict in the Middle East beyond the polarity between "Israelis" and "Palestinians" are employed in this book methods and concepts of the sociological biographical research and of the figuration sociology. Comparing five urban areas, it is approached the importance of membership, collective self-images and different forms of social differentiation.

Edited by Gabriele Rosenthal, with contributions by Ahmed Albaba, Zeina M. Barakat, Johannes Becker, Mohammed S. Dajani Daoudi, Hendrik Hinrichsen, Adi Mana, Serene Mjally-Knani, Gabriele Rosenthal, Shifra Sagy, Anan Srour, Nicolle Witte, Arne Worm and Rixta Wundrak.

Krzysztof Kosela

ROUTLEDGE

This edited collection offers an empirical exploration of social memory in the context of politics, war, identity and culture. With a substantive focus on Eastern Europe, it employs the methodologies of visual studies, content and discourse analysis, in-depth interviews and surveys to substantiate how memory narratives are composed and rewritten in changing ideological and political contexts. The book examines various historical events, including the Russian-Afghan war of 1979-89 and World War II, and considers public and local rituals, monuments and museums, textbook accounts, gender and the body. As such it provides a rich picture of post-socialist memory construction and function based in interdisciplinary memory studies.
