

REVISTA SOCIEDAD E INFANCIAS

CALL FOR PAPERS Number 1 Diversity in childhood Publication date: July 2017

Sociedad e Infancias is an interdisciplinary review that draws from the premise that children and adolescents are social actors; therefore it emphasizes their rights as citizens and their position in society. It understands childhood as a permanent structural component of every social structure, although their members are constantly renewed and experiment childhood in different ways, bringing about a diversity of lived childhoods and adolescences.

The review aims at promoting scientific knowledge, mainly in Spain, Portugal and Latin America, in line with the new studies on childhood.
