Public Anthropologist

Editor-in-Chief: Antonio De Lauri,
Chr. Michelsen Institute

Public Anthropologist boldly and candidly confronts conditions of violence, inequality, and injustice and explores ways in which anthropology might generate public awareness and have an impact on political change. The journal is interested in the space in which newspapers, television, political actors, new media, activists, experts, and academics continually mobilize positions that support or challenge dominant narratives.

The Editors invite articles and special issues committed to making anthropology speak directly to other scholars and to the wider public on issues related to war, rights, poverty, security, access to resources, new technologies, freedom, human exploitation, health, humanitarianism, violence, racism, migration and diaspora, crime, social class, hegemony, environmental challenges, social movements, and activism. We encourage both ethnographic and more theoretical submissions. Although the journal mainly focuses on contemporary issues, we also welcome submissions that adopt a historical perspective. In addition, submissions of interviews or conversations between anthropologists and journalists, activists, political actors, or artists on different topics at the core of the journal's interests will be considered. The journal also publishes reviews of books, films, and documentaries that deal with relevant challenges and opportunities of our time and encourages reviews of both scholarly works and fictional literature as well as the work of activists, journalists, and artists. Reviews of non-English materials may be submitted.

Public Anthropologist addresses a broad readership of social and cultural anthropologists, sociologists, ethnographers, political scientists, social and cultural historians, political historians, political actors, policy makers, activists, journalists, and artists.

Diplomatica

A Journal of Diplomacy and Society

Editors-in-Chief: Giles Scott-Smith, Leiden University and Kenneth Weisbrode, Bilkent University

Diplomatica: A Journal of Diplomacy and Society addresses the broad range of work being done across the social sciences and the humanities that takes diplomacy as its focus of investigation. The journal explores and investigates diplomacy as an extension of social interests, forces, and environments. It is multidisciplinary, providing a space to unite perspectives from diplomatic history (humanities) and diplomatic studies (social sciences) in particular. It is interdisciplinary, expanding beyond its disciplinary foundation of history to enrich historical perspectives with innovative perspectives from other disciplines. It seeks to broaden the study of diplomacy temporally, contributing to a re-appraisal of diplomacy across the modern and early modern eras and beyond, in this way bridging temporal divides and introducing debate between scholars of different periodizations. It is determinedly global in orientation, providing a space for inter-regional comparisons. The journal is published in cooperation with the New Diplomatic History (NDH) Network (<https://newdiplomatichistory.org>).

Diplomatica seeks to merge diplomatic history and diplomatic studies through three main approaches:

1. Habitat: Exploring the multiple identities, behaviors, rituals, and belief systems of diplomats and how they change according to time, place, and space;
2. Actors: Challenging the centrality of the nation-state as the principal actor framing an understanding of what diplomacy is by focusing equally on the role of non-state actors;
3. Disciplines: Introducing appropriate methodologies from the social sciences, such as prosopography, network analysis, gender studies, economics, geography, and communications, in order to broaden the analytical study of diplomatic habitats, actors, and interactions through time.

Broadly speaking, Diplomatica covers the study of diplomatic process more than the study of diplomatic product. It questions, investigates, and explores all aspects of the diplomatic world, from interactions between the professionally diplomatic and the non-diplomatic to the arrangement of summits and banquets, the architecture of ministries and residences, and the identities, roles, practices, and networks of envoys, policy entrepreneurs, salonnières, and all other private and quasi-private individuals who affect the course of diplomacy.

Youth and Globalization

Editors-in-Chief: Vincenzo Cicchelli, GEMASS, University Paris Sorbonne/CNRS and University Paris Descartes, and Sylvie Octobre, GEMASS, University Paris Sorbonne/CNRS

Youth and Globalization is an academic forum for discussion and exchanges, a space for intellectual creativity on all questions relating to youth in a globalizing world. Its aim is to provide an innovative understanding of youth studies in a global context based on multiscalar (both local and global), multilevel (economic, political, social), transnational, and multidisciplinary approaches. Drawing on both theoretical and empirical research, and in addition to and as a complement of the Brill book series Youth in a Globalizing World, the journal explores how young people relate to globality and its outcomes.

The journal invites scholars to address such questions as:

- Are we witnessing the globalization, the localization, or the hybridization of the conditions of youth?
- How do young people, even in an ephemeral way, experience cultures that were once considered exotic or peripheral?
- What are the links between transnational economics, political and institutional structures, transnational processes of flexibility at work and change in welfare state regimes, and the transition to adulthood?
- What about the sense of local belonging in a supposedly global age? What conceptions of democracy and human rights are held, shared, and performed by young people in a global context?
- What is the downside of the normative injunctions, widespread among younger generations in Western societies, to be open-minded and curious? And how do young people cope with this pressure?

Youth and Globalization invites contributions from scholars and advanced researchers that promote dialog in a way that resonates with academics, practitioners, policy-makers, and students as well as the general reader. The journal publishes peer-reviewed articles (6,000-10,000 words), book reviews (up to 1,200 words), and interviews/conversations (not to exceed 2,500 words). Normally, manuscripts should not exceed thirty pages in length.

For editorial queries and proposals, please contact the Youth and Globalization Editorial Office (youthandglobalization@gmail.com).

Welcome

Welcome address by the President of the International Sociological Association

Margaret Abraham

Greetings! Welcome to the XIX International Sociological Association World Congress of Sociology in Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

Power, violence and justice are terms that succinctly evoke the most pressing concerns of society over the ages, and especially now. Sociology as a discipline and sociologists have been preoccupied with these issues and their imprint on society. This XIX ISA World Congress of Sociology, with its theme “Power, Violence and Justice: Reflections, Responses and Responsibilities,” provides us an important platform to dialogue and debate these key concerns that impact our lives in multiple ways.

From across the world, we come together for this Congress to consider the complexities of power, violence and justice in our time. To this end, we will address issues that influence social structures, social relations and social behavior. It will involve interrogating power and the powerful; critiquing colonial histories and contemporary land appropriations; reflecting on the structures and cultural processes that perpetuate violence against indigenous people and minorities; revisiting patriarchy and the continuing violence and discrimination against women; studying the violence of wars, poverty, racism, gender and intersectional violence, forced migration and dispossession. It also includes the need to consider a contextual global public sociology that addresses the contentious issues of our time with the ultimate purpose of creating a more just world.

The sociologist’s understanding of the world is incomplete without the perspective of other disciplines. An important aspect of this conference is to also point to the synergy and better comprehension of issues that we hope to achieve through our sustained interaction with other fields and engagement with civil society. Together, we hope to deepen our insights of the complex social, economic, and political challenges of our troubled world and find effective ways of countering the forces perpetrating violence and subverting equality and justice.

A tremendous amount of work has been undertaken backstage to ensure the success of this XIX ISA World Congress of Sociology with more than 5,000 participants from 101 countries. We have over 1,200 sessions with a spectrum of topics and varied formats and this time we have also initiated three special spotlight sessions! We are fortunate to have a strong program due to the immense efforts of the Research Committees, Working and Thematic Groups, and National and Regional Associations. In particular, Local Organizing Committee Chair, Patrizia Albanese played a pivotal leadership role, and together with the Local Organizing Committee, the Canadian Sociological Association and its coordinator Sherry Fox, prepared the vital local arrangements in Canada. The ISA Program Committee has played an important role in the development of the Congress program and the ISA Executive Committee has also been an integral part of this journey. This Congress owes much to the incredible dedication, organizational experience and careful coordination at all stages of ISA Executive Secretary, Izabela Barlinska and the ISA Secretariat team.

To each of you Congress participants, this XIX ISA World Congress of Sociology is an opportunity to show that sociology matters; that together with scholars, public intellectuals, policy makers, journalists and activists from diverse fields we can contribute to the understanding of power, violence and justice and offer pathways to a more just world. May you also find time for fun, family and to build friendships along the way. Once again, a very warm welcome!

Margaret Abraham
President, International Sociological Association

Message de bienvenue de la Présidente de l'Association internationale de Sociologie

Bonjour et bienvenue au XIXe Congrès mondial de Sociologie de l'Association internationale de Sociologie, à Toronto, en Ontario, et au Canada.

Le « pouvoir », la « violence » et la « justice » sont des termes éloquentes qui concentrent les grands problèmes de société auxquels nous sommes confrontés depuis toujours, et plus particulièrement aujourd'hui. Depuis les débuts de la sociologie, les sociologues se sont intéressés à ces questions et à leur empreinte sur la société. La XIXe édition du Congrès mondial de Sociologie de l'ISA, sur le thème « Pouvoir, violence et justice : Réflexions, réponses et responsabilités », est pour nous une occasion importante d'échanger et de débattre de ces problématiques fondamentales qui affectent notre existence à de multiples égards.

Venus du monde entier, nous nous rassemblons ici pour rendre compte de la complexité du pouvoir, de la violence et de la justice dans le contexte actuel. Pour ce faire, nous traiterons des facteurs qui influent sur les structures sociales, les rapports sociaux et les comportements sociaux. Il nous faudra pour cela interroger le pouvoir et les puissants ; analyser de manière critique les passés coloniaux et les appropriations actuelles de terres ; réfléchir aux structures et aux processus culturels qui contribuent à perpétuer les violences faites aux populations indigènes et aux minorités ; apporter de nouveaux éclairages sur le patriarcat et sur la persistance des violences et des discriminations à l'encontre des femmes ; étudier la violence des guerres, la pauvreté, le racisme, le genre et les violences intersectionnelles, ainsi que les migrations forcées et la dépossession. Cela implique également d'envisager une sociologie publique globale et contextuelle, qui traite des problématiques et débats de notre époque dans l'objectif final de créer un monde plus juste.

La compréhension du monde qu'ont les sociologues ne serait pas complète sans l'apport d'autres disciplines. Avec ce Congrès, nous avons ainsi voulu mettre en avant la synergie et la meilleure compréhension auxquelles nous espérons parvenir grâce à l'interaction soutenue avec d'autres disciplines et à l'engagement auprès de la société civile. Ensemble, nous espérons mieux appréhender les complexes défis sociaux, économiques et politiques de notre monde si agité et trouver des moyens efficaces de contrecarrer les forces qui exercent la violence et sapent l'égalité et la justice.

Pour assurer la réussite de ce XIXe Congrès mondial de sociologie, avec plus de 5000 participants venus de 101 pays, un travail considérable a été fourni en amont. Le programme offre plus de 1200 sessions sur tout un éventail de sujets et aux formats variés, ainsi que, pour la première fois, trois séances spéciales de conférenciers vedettes. Ce riche programme est le fruit des efforts des Comités de recherche, Groupes thématiques et de travail et Associations nationales et régionales. Le Comité local d'organisation, dirigé par Patrizia Albanese, et la Société canadienne de Sociologie, sous la houlette de Sherry Fox, ont joué un rôle essentiel pour organiser sur place tous les préparatifs nécessaires à une rencontre de cette envergure. Le Comité du Programme de l'ISA a contribué de manière importante à l'élaboration du programme du Congrès, sans oublier le Comité Exécutif de l'ISA, qui a également participé de près à toutes les étapes de cette entreprise. Enfin le Congrès doit beaucoup à l'extraordinaire dévouement, à l'expérience et au travail consciencieux d'organisation et de coordination de la Secrétaire exécutive de l'ISA, Izabela Barlinska et de son équipe du Secrétariat.

Pour vous tous qui participez à ce Congrès, cette rencontre est une occasion de montrer que la sociologie est importante ; qu'ensemble, avec des chercheurs, intellectuels engagés, acteurs politiques, journalistes et activistes issus de divers domaines, nous pouvons aller vers une meilleure compréhension du pouvoir, de la violence et de la justice et proposer des pistes pour un monde plus juste. J'espère que vous trouverez aussi le temps durant votre séjour ici de vous divertir et nouer de nouvelles amitiés. Et encore une fois, bienvenue à tous et à toutes !

Margaret Abraham
Présidente de l'Association internationale de Sociologie

Mensaje de bienvenida de la Presidenta de la Asociación Internacional de Sociología

Bienvenidos al XIX Congreso Mundial de Sociología de la Asociación Internacional de Sociología en Toronto, Ontario, Canadá.

“Poder”, “violencia” y “justicia” son términos contundentes que engloban las cuestiones clave de la sociedad, y especialmente ahora. Desde el origen de la sociología, los sociólogos han estado preocupados por estas cuestiones y sus huellas en la sociedad. Este XIX Congreso Mundial de Sociología, con su tema “Poder, violencia y justicia: Reflexiones, respuestas y responsabilidades”, constituye una importante plataforma para dialogar y debatir sobre estos asuntos esenciales que impactan en nuestras vidas de múltiples maneras.

Desde el mundo entero, nos reunimos aquí para explorar la complejidad del poder, de la violencia y de la justicia en estos tiempos. Por eso hablaremos de lo que influye en las estructuras, las relaciones y el comportamiento social. Esto implica interrogar al poder y a los poderosos; investigar de modo crítico las historias coloniales y las apropiaciones de tierras en la actualidad; reflexionar sobre las estructuras y los procesos culturales que perpetúan la violencia contra los pueblos indígenas y las minorías; reexaminar el patriarcado y la continua violencia y discriminación contra las mujeres; estudiar la violencia de las guerras, la pobreza, el racismo, el género y la violencia interseccional, la migración forzada y la desposesión. Esto implica también contemplar una sociología pública global y contextual que trate las cuestiones más discutidas de nuestros tiempos con el fin último de crear un mundo más justo.

La comprensión del mundo que tienen los sociólogos sería incompleta sin la aportación de otras disciplinas. Con este Congreso, hemos querido poner de relieve la sinergia y el mejor entendimiento que buscamos conseguir gracias a la interacción sostenida con otros campos y el compromiso con la sociedad civil. Juntos, esperamos profundizar nuestro entendimiento de los complejos desafíos sociales, económicos y políticos de nuestro mundo y encontrar medios eficaces para contrarrestar las fuerzas que perpetúan la violencia y minan la igualdad y la justicia.

Una ingente labor se ha realizado para asegurar el éxito de este XIX Congreso Mundial de Sociología, con más de 5000 participantes de 101 países. El programa ofrece más de 1200 sesiones con un amplio abanico de temas y diversos formatos así como, por primera vez, tres sesiones especiales de conferenciantes estrella. Este nutrido programa es fruto de los esfuerzos de los Comités de Investigación, Grupos Temáticos y de Trabajo y Asociaciones Nacionales y Regionales. El Comité Local de Organización, liderado por Patrizia Albanese, y la Asociación Canadiense de Sociología, con su coordinadora Sherry Fox, han jugado un papel fundamental para organizar in situ todos los preparativos necesarios en un encuentro de tal envergadura. El Comité del Programa de la ISA contribuyó de manera importante a la elaboración del programa del Congreso, así como el Comité Ejecutivo de la ISA que ha participado también en todas las etapas de este proceso. El Congreso también debe mucho a la increíble dedicación, la experiencia y el riguroso trabajo de coordinación y organización de la Secretaría Ejecutiva de la ISA, Izabela Barlinska, y a su equipo del Secretariado.

Para todos los participantes en este Congreso, este encuentro es una oportunidad de mostrar que la sociología es importante; que juntos con investigadores, intelectuales comprometidos, actores políticos, periodistas y activistas de diversos campos podemos contribuir a un mejor entendimiento del poder, de la violencia y de la justicia y ofrecer vías para un mundo más justo. Espero que también tengan tiempo para el entretenimiento y nuevas amistades aquí en Toronto. ¡De nuevo les deseo a todos y a todas la bienvenida!

Welcome Address by the President of the Canadian Sociological Association

On behalf of the Canadian Sociological Association it is my honour to welcome you to the XIX ISA World Congress of Sociology in Toronto, Ontario, Canada. This conference is taking place on the territory of the Dish With One Spoon wampum treaty. This is an agreement between the Mississaugas and the Haudenosaunee to peaceably share and protect the land. This includes the lands of the Huron-Wendat, the Anishinabek Nation, and extends to the Mississaugas of New Credit in the Great Lakes region.

As territorial acknowledgments are an increasingly common part of public events, they deserve explication. Their roots in Canada lie in long-standing Indigenous activism and, more recently, attention generated by the 2008 to 2015 Indian Residential School Truth and Reconciliation Commission. While acknowledgment is a small act, the issues that it recognizes resonate with the theme of this World Congress – “Power, Violence and Justice: Reflections, Responses and Responsibilities.” In Canada, acknowledgment is used to express appreciation and gratitude as well as to show an awareness of people and their land. Acknowledgment is also a political practice, providing a stark reminder, particularly for non-Indigenous people, about settler colonialism, about treaties, and about treaty obligations. Although Canada has an international reputation as a peaceable and generous nation, for many groups, Canada is not a just society. The country’s history and ongoing colonial relationship with Indigenous peoples continue to be marked by power, violence and injustice.

The ISA World Congress provides an unparalleled opportunity for sociologists from around the globe to engage with Canadian sociology and vice versa. Canadian sociologists have been deeply committed to the ISA. This includes long-standing attendance, presenting and organizing at ISA meetings as well as serving as executives on its Research Committees and for the ISA more broadly. Among Canadian sociology’s many strengths is a commitment to theoretical and methodological pluralism. Canadian sociologists, like their counterparts from other countries, are open to an ever-changing and diverse world. The Canadian Sociological Association’s 1,000 members belong to more than 28 CSA research clusters including applied sociology, social theory, feminist sociology, political sociology and social movements, environmental sociology, and sociology of science, technology and knowledge. Some of the strongest contributions members and research clusters offer the discipline are published in the Canadian Review of Sociology/Revue canadienne de sociologie <https://www.csa-scs.ca/canadian-review/>, the flagship journal of the Canadian Sociological Association.

In reading the journal and meeting Canadian sociologists at the ISA meetings, you will see that we are also deeply concerned with social justice, with making practical policy-relevant contributions, and with taking on the role of public sociologists. The World Congress provides sociologists from around the world the opportunity to explore both the differences and similarities in our experiences of and responses to power, violence and justice.

We are very excited about your participation at the conference.

Message de bienvenue de la Présidente de la Société Canadienne de Sociologie

Au nom de la Société Canadienne de Sociologie, j'ai le grand plaisir de vous souhaiter la bienvenue au XIXe Congrès mondial de Sociologie de l'ISA à Toronto, dans la belle province canadienne de l'Ontario. Ce congrès a lieu sur le territoire faisant l'objet du traité de la ceinture wampum en référence au concept du « bol à une seule cuillère ». Il s'agit d'une entente entre les Mississaugas et les Haudenosaunee visant la protection et le partage conjoints des terres et des ressources, qui comprennent celles des Hurons-Wendats et de la Nation Anishinabek jusqu'aux Mississaugas de la New Credit de la région des Grands Lacs.

Étant donné que les reconnaissances territoriales constituent une partie de plus en plus commune des événements publics, elles méritent une explication. Leurs racines canadiennes découlent d'un activisme autochtone de longue date et, plus récemment, de l'attention suscitée par la Commission de vérité et réconciliation des pensionnats indiens qui travailla de 2008 à 2015. Bien que la reconnaissance ne constitue qu'un petit geste, les enjeux ainsi reconnus trouvent un écho avec le thème de notre Congrès mondial, soit « Pouvoir, violence et justice : Réflexions, réponses et responsabilités ». Au Canada, on utilise la reconnaissance pour exprimer la gratitude et démontrer une prise de conscience vis-à-vis des peuples et de leurs terres. De plus, la reconnaissance constitue une pratique politique et se veut un rappel important, en particulier pour les non-Autochtones, concernant le colonialisme de peuplement, les traités et les obligations issues de traités. Bien que le Canada ait une réputation internationale de nation pacifique et généreuse, pour de nombreux groupes, le pays n'est pas une société juste. Son histoire et sa relation coloniale continue avec les peuples autochtones ne cessent d'être marquées par le pouvoir, la violence et l'injustice.

Le Congrès Mondial de l'ISA offre une occasion sans pareille aux sociologues des quatre coins du globe d'engager le dialogue avec la sociologie canadienne et vice versa. Les sociologues canadiens sont activement associés à l'ISA, comme en témoignent leur participation de longue date à des réunions de l'ISA comme conférenciers ou organisateurs, ainsi que leur activité de dirigeants au sein des comités de recherche et pour l'ISA de façon plus générale. Parmi les nombreux points forts de la sociologie canadienne se trouve un engagement en faveur du pluralisme théorique et méthodologique. Les sociologues canadiens, tout comme leurs homologues des autres pays, sont ouverts à un monde diversifié en constante évolution. Les 1000 membres de la Société Canadienne de Sociologie appartiennent à plus de 28 groupes de recherche, dont la sociologie appliquée, la théorie sociologique, la sociologie féministe, la sociologie politique et les mouvements sociaux, la sociologie de l'environnement et la sociologie de la science, de la technologie et du savoir. Certaines des plus importantes contributions de ces membres et groupes de recherche à la discipline sont publiées dans la Canadian Review of Sociology/Revue canadienne de sociologie <https://www.csa-scs.ca/canadian-review/>, la revue phare de la Société Canadienne de Sociologie.

Au travers de notre revue et des rencontres que vous pourrez faire au congrès de l'ISA, vous constaterez par ailleurs que les sociologues canadiens s'intéressent de près aux questions de justice sociale et tiennent à apporter une contribution pratique qui soit utile à l'élaboration des politiques publiques, ainsi qu'à endosser le rôle de sociologues engagés dans la sphère publique. Le Congrès mondial donne aux sociologues du monde entier l'occasion d'explorer autant les différences que les similitudes de nos expériences du pouvoir, de la violence et de la justice, et des réponses que nous y apportons.

Nous nous réjouissons de votre participation au Congrès.

Discurso de bienvenida de la Presidenta de la Asociación Canadiense de Sociología

En nombre de la Asociación Canadiense de Sociología, tengo el honor de deseársles la bienvenida al XIX Congreso Mundial de Sociología de la ISA en Toronto, Ontario, Canadá. Esta conferencia tiene lugar en el territorio del cinturón de tratado o wampum del “bol con una sola cuchara”. Se trata de un acuerdo entre los Mississaugas y los Haudenosaunees para compartir pacíficamente y proteger la tierra, incluyendo las tierras de la nación Hurón-Wendat, de la nación Anishinaabe, y también de los Mississaugas de la Primera Nación de New Credit de la región de los Grandes Lagos.

Dado que los reconocimientos territoriales se están volviendo un aspecto cada vez más común de los eventos públicos en Canadá, requieren de una explicación. Las raíces de estos reconocimientos en Canadá se remontan a un activismo indígena de larga data, así como a la atención generada entre 2008 y 2015 por la Comisión por la Verdad y la Reconciliación de las Escuelas Residenciales Indígenas. Si bien el reconocimiento solo es un pequeño gesto, los problemas así reconocidos coinciden con el tema de esta edición del Congreso Mundial de Sociología – “Poder, violencia y justicia: Reflexiones, respuestas y responsabilidades”. En Canadá, el reconocimiento es utilizado como una forma de expresar aprecio y gratitud, así como para mostrar conciencia de los pueblos y sus tierras. El reconocimiento también es un acto político, que sirve de duro recordatorio – principalmente para las personas no indígenas – del colonialismo, los tratados y las obligaciones vinculadas con estos tratados. Aunque Canadá es visto internacionalmente como una nación pacífica y generosa, para muchos colectivos, no es una sociedad justa. La historia del país y la relación colonial que perdura con los pueblos autóctonos continúan siendo marcadas por el poder, la violencia y la injusticia.

El Congreso Mundial de la ISA nos da una oportunidad sin precedentes para dialogar con sociólogos canadienses y vice-versa. Los sociólogos canadienses han sido muy activos en la ISA, sea como participantes, presentadores o organizadores en sus congresos, o desempeñando funciones ejecutivas en los comités de investigación o más generalmente en la ISA. Entre las muchas fortalezas de la sociología canadiense podemos citar su compromiso con el pluralismo teórico y metodológico. Los sociólogos canadienses, como sus pares en otros países, se muestran abiertos a un mundo diverso y en constante evolución. Los 1.000 miembros de la Asociación Canadiense de Sociología pertenecen a más de 28 grupos de investigación que van desde la sociología aplicada a la teoría social, la sociología feminista, la sociología política y los movimientos sociales, la sociología ambiental o la sociología de la ciencia, la tecnología y el conocimiento. Algunas de las contribuciones más importantes que ofrecen sus miembros y grupos de investigación se publican en la Canadian Review of Sociology/Revue canadienne de sociologie <https://www.csa-scs.ca/canadian-review/>, la revista insignia de la Asociación Canadiense de Sociología.

Al leer la revista y conocer a sociólogos canadienses en las reuniones de la ISA, podrán también constatar nuestro fuerte compromiso con la justicia social, con aportar contribuciones útiles para las políticas públicas y con asumir el rol de sociólogos públicos. El Congreso Mundial es una oportunidad para que los sociólogos de todo el mundo podamos explorar tanto las diferencias como las similitudes en nuestras experiencias y respuestas al poder, la violencia y la justicia.

Welcome Address by the Chair of the Local Organizing Committee

It is an honour to welcome you to Toronto, to Canada, and to the XIXth ISA World Congress of Sociology!

The World Congress theme, “Power, Violence and Justice: Reflections, Responses and Responsibilities,” crafted by ISA President, Dr. Margaret Abraham, challenges sociologists to propose action and seek change in these especially turbulent times. The World Congress is a space to exchange research and ideas, to debate theories, to envision better policy and practice with colleagues from around the world. It provides opportunities to consider how best to empower communities, to reduce violence, and to promote justice.

In keeping with the Congress theme, the pan-Canadian Local Organizing Committee – made up of Margaret Bancarz, Jim Conley, Myrna Dawson, Sherry Fox, Simon Langlois, Susan McDaniel, Mark Stoddart, Evie Tastsoglou, and Rima Wilkes – wishes to highlight the struggles, collective mobilization, and resurgence of Indigenous peoples in Canada. The challenges of decolonization and reconciliation, and Canada’s English-French linguistic duality, are reflected in the World Congress logo, designed by Lydia Prince, an Indigenous artist from the Tl’azt’en Nation in British Columbia.

The XIXth World Congress showcases Canadian scholarship and collaborations. In addition to the hundreds of Canadian sociologists participating in the conference, the World Congress program includes four Canadian Thematic Sessions that will give you a taste of the diversity and rigour that is at the heart of Canadian sociology.

The Metro Toronto Convention Centre is part of Canada’s most diverse and multicultural urban environment. We invite you to walk around with colleagues, friends, and family through Toronto’s local markets, street festivals, neighbourhoods, and parks. We hope that you leave recharged — full of new ideas, stronger networks, fond memories and a renewed drive to create better, more just, sustainable, and inclusive societies.

We wish to thank Dr. Abraham, Izabela Barlinska, the ISA Secretariat, and the members of the ISA executive for giving us the opportunity to host this important international gathering. It has been a pleasure to work closely with them to see this event come to fruition.

Our very special thanks also go out to the local conference organizing company, JPdL International, and especially Adriana Bonacci, and to Confex, Tourism Toronto, the Leader’s Circle, the Metro Toronto Convention Centre, many volunteers, and our generous supporters and sponsors. Most importantly, we would like to acknowledge the tremendous work of Sherry Fox, the Canadian Sociological Association’s executive administrator.

Openness, collaboration, inclusiveness, compromise and collegiality infused everything that we did to get here. We hope this is reflected in what you see and experience while you are in Toronto.

Message de bienvenue de la Présidente du Comité local d'organisation

C'est pour moi un honneur de vous accueillir à Toronto, au Canada, ainsi qu'au XIXe Congrès mondial de Sociologie de l'ISA !

Le thème du Congrès mondial, « Pouvoir, violence et justice : Réflexions, réponses et responsabilités », orchestré par Margaret Abraham, Présidente de l'ISA, met les sociologues au défi de proposer des pistes d'action et de changement en cette période si troublée de notre histoire. Le Congrès mondial constitue un espace échanger recherches et idées, où débattre de théories et où imaginer de meilleures politiques et pratiques avec des collègues des quatre coins du monde. Il permet de réfléchir à la meilleure façon d'accroître le pouvoir des communautés, de réduire la violence et de promouvoir la justice.

En harmonie avec le thème du Congrès, le comité local d'organisation pancanadien, composé de Margaret Bancarz, Jim Conley, Myrna Dawson, Sherry Fox, Simon Langlois, Susan McDaniel, Mark Stoddart, Evie Tastsoglou et Rima Wilkes, souhaite mettre en avant les combats, la mobilisation collective et le nouvel essor des peuples autochtones du Canada. Le logo du Congrès, qui est l'œuvre de Lydia Prince, une artiste autochtone de la nation Tl'azt'en de la Colombie-Britannique, reflète les défis de la décolonisation et la réconciliation, ainsi que la dualité linguistique anglais-français du Canada.

Le XIXe Congrès mondial met en valeur la recherche et les collaborations des sociologues canadiens. Outre que des centaines de sociologues du pays participent au Congrès, le programme du Congrès mondial comprend quatre Sessions thématiques canadiennes qui donneront un aperçu de la diversité et de la rigueur qui se trouvent au cœur même de la sociologie canadienne.

Le Palais des Congrès du Toronto Métropolitain fait partie du milieu urbain le plus diversifié et multiculturel du Canada. Nous vous invitons à vous promener avec vos collègues, vos amis et votre famille pour découvrir les marchés locaux, festivals de rue, quartiers et parcs de Toronto. Nous espérons que vous partirez rechargés avec tout plein d'idées, des réseaux solides, d'agréables souvenirs et une volonté renouvelée de créer des sociétés meilleures, plus justes, durables et ouvertes à tous.

Nous souhaitons remercier Margaret Abraham, Izabela Barlinska, le secrétariat et les membres de la direction de l'ISA de nous avoir donné l'occasion d'accueillir cette importante rencontre internationale. Cela a été un réel plaisir de collaborer aussi étroitement avec eux pour concrétiser cet événement.

Nous tenons aussi à remercier tout particulièrement l'entreprise locale qui a organisé le Congrès, JPdL International, et surtout Adriana Bonacci, ainsi que Confex, Tourisme Toronto, le Leader's Circle, le Palais des Congrès du Toronto Métropolitain, les nombreux bénévoles et nos généreux collaborateurs et commanditaires. Et surtout, nous souhaitons reconnaître le travail exemplaire de Sherry Fox, la directrice administrative de la Société canadienne de Sociologie.

L'ouverture, la collaboration, l'inclusion, le compromis et la collégialité ont inspiré tout ce que nous avons fait pour être ici aujourd'hui. Nous espérons que vous retrouverez ces valeurs dans ce que vous verrez et vivrez pendant votre séjour à Toronto.

Mensaje de bienvenida de la Presidenta del Comité Local de Organización

¡Es un honor darles la bienvenida a Toronto, a Canadá, y al XIX Congreso Mundial de Sociología de la ISA!

El tema de esta XIX edición del Congreso Mundial, “Poder, violencia y justicia: Reflexiones, respuestas y responsabilidades”, concebido por la Presidenta de la ISA, la Dra. Margaret Abraham, invita a los sociólogos a proponer acciones y buscar cambios en estos tiempos particularmente turbulentos. El Congreso Mundial es un lugar para intercambiar investigaciones e ideas, debatir sobre teorías e imaginar con colegas de todo el mundo mejores políticas y prácticas. Es una oportunidad para reflexionar sobre cómo conseguir empoderar a las comunidades, reducir la violencia y promover la justicia.

En consonancia con el tema del Congreso, el Comité Local de Organización pan-canadiense – compuesto por Margaret Bancercz, Jim Conley, Myrna Dawson, Sherry Fox, Simon Langlois, Susan McDaniel, Mark Stoddart, Evie Tastsoglou y Rima Wilkes – ha querido resaltar las luchas, las movilizaciones colectivas y el renacimiento de los pueblos autóctonos de Canadá. Los desafíos de la descolonización y la reconciliación, y la dualidad lingüística inglés-francés de Canadá, quedan reflejados en el logo del Congreso, diseñado por Lydia Prince, una artista autóctona de la nación Tl’azt’en de la Columbia Británica.

El XIX Congreso Mundial permite presentar las investigaciones y colaboraciones desarrolladas por sociólogos canadienses. Además de los cientos de sociólogos canadienses que participan en este encuentro, el programa del Congreso Mundial incluye cuatro Sesiones Temáticas Canadienses para ofrecerles una muestra de la diversidad y el rigor que informan la sociología de nuestro país.

El centro de convenciones Metro Toronto forma parte del entorno urbano más multicultural y diverso de Canadá. Les invitamos a pasear con vuestros colegas, amigos y familia por los mercados de Toronto, sus festivales callejeros, sus barrios y sus parques. Esperamos que vuelvan cargados de nuevas ideas, con redes de contactos reforzadas, bonitos recuerdos y unas ganas renovadas de crear unas sociedades mejores, más justas, sostenibles e inclusivas.

Queremos dar las gracias a la Dra. Abraham, a Izabela Barlinska y al conjunto del Secretariado de la ISA, así como a los miembros del Comité Ejecutivo de la ISA, por habernos dado esta oportunidad de organizar este importante encuentro internacional. Ha sido un placer trabajar en estrecha colaboración con todos ellos para que este evento pueda llevarse a cabo.

Un agradecimiento especial va también a la empresa organizadora local, JPdL International, y más especialmente a Adriana Bonacci, así como a Confex, Tourism Toronto, Leader’s Circle, al centro de convenciones Metro Toronto, a los numerosos voluntarios y a nuestros generosos patrocinadores y colaboradores. Sobre todo queremos reconocer la gran labor de Sherry Fox, administradora ejecutiva de la Asociación Canadiense de Sociología.

La apertura, la colaboración, la inclusión, el compromiso y la colegialidad han inspirado todo lo que hemos hecho para llegar aquí hoy. Esperamos que estos valores queden reflejados en lo que vean y vivan durante su estancia en Toronto.

Group performers: First Nations dancers are from Québec and Ontario, and represent many Indigenous Nations from across Turtle Island – known today as North America. The diversity of dancers also pays tribute to the diversity of Toronto's urban Indigenous community.

Drum Group and Singers: "Young Ogichidaa" is a drum group from the heart of Toronto. The drum group carrier is Coty D. Zachariah. The word Ogichidaa (Oh-gitch-ah-daa) is Ojibwa or Anish-na-bee, and means "Warrior".

This Welcome to Turtle Island is derived from Grand Entries that typically take place at Powwows. They involve a procession of dancers serving as a "bringing together of Nations." The audience is expected to stand during this time. The songs express respect in a ceremonial way.

VENUE MAP

The ISA Congress sessions and events will take place in both the North and South Buildings of the Metro Toronto Convention Centre (MTCC). The main entrance of the venue for delegates is through the North Building, 255 Front Street West. Both buildings of the MTCC are connected by an indoor bridge located one floor above the Exhibition (Exhibit Hall C). It would be a 5 - 10 minute walk to make your way from Level 300 (Exhibition) in the North Building to the sessions on Level 700 in the South Building. Delegates can access the different levels using escalators and elevators.
