1. Welcome
Welcome and introduction by the President, Peter Ratcliffe (PR).

2. Apologies
None

3. Minutes of Previous Meeting
(8 September 2008, ISA World Forum, Barcelona – circulated)

4. Matters arising
a) The matter of a book prize had not progressed and it was recommended that this issue be taken up by the incoming Executive Board.

b) A decision was taken by the meeting not to establish a formal link between RC 05 and the Journal of Intercultural Studies given there are a number of journals associated with RC 05.

5. Statement from outgoing RC05 President – Peter Ratcliffe (2006-2010)

PR paid tribute to the support he had received and the efforts of Zlatko Skrbris (ZS) and Natividad Gutierrez Chong (NGC). He stated that the incoming President needed similar support. He suggested that his achievements were best judged by others. He commented on the organisation of the previous two conferences and stated that while some difficulties had been experienced with the company contracted, the conferences had been successful. RC 05 had filled every available slot and had requested additional sessions which were filled also. Contact between meetings was important and efforts to maintain on-going dialogue needed to be explored and maintained.

RC 05 was one of the largest groups and had been successful applying for all available ISA grants. At April 2010 the closing balance was 5163.74 (pounds). A Summary Report was circulated and final accounts would be submitted after impending debts were cleared, including the cost of the Congress reception to follow. Future challenges included the differential impact of the global financial crisis on minorities and the bureaucratic control on the nature of academic work, which is likely to impact most on the already vulnerable.

6. Elections to RC05 Executive Board (ZS)

ZS accounced that Ann Denis had been elected President. He congratulated her and explained that she was not in attendance because she had been admitted to hospital.
He introduced the new Executive Board members as follows;
Floya Anthias
Sirma Bilge
Helma Lutz
Scott Poynting
Vilma Bashi Treiller
Georgina Tsolidis
Ulrike Vieten
Peter Ratcliffe
Natividad Gutierrez Chong

7. Statement from new RC05 President

Held over.

8. Membership Report (ZS)

Currently there were 178 members, which is slightly below the largest membership (190 in 2008). A separate data-base had been constructed for members who were non-paying. Renewal reminders were not sent and people were asked to check that they were financial and renew their membership accordingly.

The e-list was explained to members on joining. This had proved successful with lively discussion on matters such as bibliographical material.

9. RC05 Newsletter (NGC)

The newsletter was the primary vehicle for communication and facilitated RC 05 developing and maintaining cohesion. There is a statutory obligation to produce at least two newsletters each year.

10. The future of RC05 (President/All)

A call was made for members to consider inviting relevant groups from respective national associations to affiliate with RC 05.
The e-list was recommended for further use.
The idea of holding an Interim Meeting was discussed at length, including in Cyprus. A decision was held over given there was some ambiguity as to the venue for the next ISA Forum.
While it was considered appropriate for RC 05 to have an advocacy role, it was recommended that the new Executive Board explore a process whereby statements such as that issued in Durban on the Middle East, could be made on behalf of the membership.

11. Any other business.

There were concerns about the conference including the lack of facilities (e.g. water for speakers and others). Some abstracts had not been published although there was some ambiguity as to whether this was an oversight of the organisers. Maps could have been clearer. The inappropriate spelling of participants’ names due to a range of technical issues was inappropriate. Some felt the printing of abstracts was considered costly and environmentally unfriendly.

Meeting closed
9 pm.

Report on the Business Meeting held by RC05
in Buenos Aires at the ISA Forum, at 12:30 on August 2, 2012

Unfortunately the flight of our recording secretary, Sirma Bilge, was badly delayed due to bad weather, so she was unable to attend the meeting and take minutes. What follows is a summary, prepared from memory.

At least a couple of dozen RC05 members attended this information meeting. There was a brief report on the mid-term meeting (which is discussed elsewhere in this newsletter), on membership (now updated in a report in this newsletter- which includes the country breakdown of membership requested at the Business meeting), and, informally on finance. Those responsible for the organization of the Forum were warmly thanked, particularly our two liaison designates at the Forum from the University of Buenos Aires - Anahi Gonzalez and Lucila Rotger. In recognition of their contributions, each is given a 4 year membership in ISA and RC05.

Members were invited (either individually or in collaboration) to take up Sociopedia’s invitation to write an entry about ‘Racism, Nationalism and Ethnic Relations’. Peter Ratcliffe, who has already prepared an article for Sociopedia, shared with us the process he had experienced in writing for this refereed publication.

Mohammed Bamyeh, the new editor, International Sociology Review of Books had also invited RC05 members to make proposals for themes, debates, or materials of particular interest that they would like ISRB to highlight. His message reminded our members that ISRB reviews books, but also regional or local debates, as well as non-book materials (audio-visual materials, blogs, zines, etc.) that could be of interest to an international community of sociologists, and is especially interested in reviews of materials available in languages other than English.

Despite the fact that RC05 invested as much of its own funds in travel grants as the amount allocated to us by ISA for travel grants, we were only able to fund a small proportion of the requests received from RC05 members. As reported in the last newsletter, for the Forum we gave priority to requests from Latin American students and junior colleagues – and only for travel (not accommodation or subsistence) and, in some cases, registration. By limiting ourselves to Latin America the costs of travel were lower, so more people could be funded. Nevertheless many deserving applicants could unfortunately not be funded. Assuming the same rationale is used in the future, the region to which priority is given would shift with the venue of the conference. The other main cost for the Buenos Aires meetings was the cost of our reception/get together, which is an important occasion for our members to chat and get to know each other better. Although some funding of translations from/to Spanish had been a possibility (if abstracts were submitted in advance) and this might have entailed costs (which had been budgeted), there were no such requests. Similarly, due to the electronic submission process for abstracts, in the end I did not need to pay for administrative assistance for organizing the program (which had also been budgeted).
At the moment RC05 is in a healthy financial situation, due to modest expenditures during the past 6 years. It was suggested at the business meeting that the Board therefore explore future expenditures that could enhance our activities – possibilities discussed included: paying for some translation from/to Japanese for the next World Congress, modestly funding a RC05 prize, funding the costs of a publication preparation, and of course also funding travel, organizational and other costs related to our meeting in Yokohama, and perhaps for a small mid-term meeting in 2013.
RC05 has agreed to co-sponsor (at no cost) a conference or workshop in Suriname in 2013 on multiculturalism, interethnic relations and migration. The event is being planned to mark the tenth anniversary of a partnership between the International Institute of Social Sciences at Erasmus University in the Netherlands with the F.H.R. Lim A Po Institute for Social Studies in Suriname and will focus on a topic that is relevant to Surinamese society (which is highly multicultural) as well as an important governance issue. We will provide more information as this becomes available.

The possibility of RC05 holding a small mid-term conference in 2013 on the European continent, in conjunction with another sociological association, is being explored.

RC05 has been revising its statutes in order to ensure conformity with current ISA regulations and norms. Although the changes required are not major, the work is somewhat exacting. The Board has discussed a draft, and once the resulting document has been approved by the Board, it will be circulated for approval by RC05 members. Throughout the process we are in consultation with the ISA in order to ensure that, in making any changes, we remain in conformity.

Members were invited to attend the RC05 get together which was being held away from the University that evening, and were given directions, should they wish to go there independently. Ahani and Lucila would take RC05 members by subway near the end of the last evening session of the Forum (a meeting place and time were identified).

The meeting was adjourned.

Ann Denis,
President of RC05
RC05 Reception (after the Business Meeting on Tues July 15)

Our RC05 reception will be held on Tuesday July 15, after the RC05 Business Meeting, at the YC&AC (Yokohama Country & Athletic Club) – MP room on the second floor. It will begin about 21h (9:00 pm), ending about 23h, so you can still return to your hotels before the trains stop running. We’ll provide you with a selection of appetizers and two tickets for a variety of drinks (with a cash bar available).

At the end of the Business Meeting, we will be leading groups there, using the train (JR Negishi line from Sakuragicho Station to Yamate Station): there will be a 10-15 minute walk at each end and of course each person is responsible for their train fare.

Alternatively you can go by taxi (about 2000¥ from the Congress centre, which makes around 700¥ per person if 3 people share the taxi).

Milos Debnar, one of our members who lives in Japan, will be leading the first group to the YC&AC. He also has kindly offered to prepare information about the last trains and to search for any train combination needed to get back to your hotel. We can also help with arranging taxis back to your hotel.

The address of the club is: Yokohama Country and Athletic Club, 11-1 Yaguchidai, Naka-ku, Yokohama, Kanagawa 231-8684. 神奈川県横浜市中区矢口台 11-1 〒231-8684. Phone / Fax / Email: 045-623-8121 / 045-623-1233 / front[AT]ycac.or.jp.

Here is a detailed map of the position and route to the YC&AC from mapquest - https://goo.gl/maps/sZrBN (clicking on ‘preview the steps’ or the ‘walking’ parts at each end gives directions for these parts and pictures of the walking route). And here is the link to the club’s web page, which also includes directions from Yamate Station: (http://www.ycac.or.jp/club/map/).

Helpful information (mainly selections from Confex emails to presenters, ‘practical information’ on the ISA Congress Web plus other advice)

- Session rooms will be equipped with a computer, LCD projector, screen, microphone, and pointer (for more details, see http://www.isa-sociology.org/congress2014/practical-information.htm). There will be PowerPoint facilities for roundtable sessions too. There will be one monitor connected to a single computer for all the participants at each table. It is recommended that presenters bring their own thumb drives so that they can easily load their presentations onto a single computer to save time between presentations. In the case of Mac users, if they want to use their own Mac, they need to bring a connector. However they can also use their thumb drive for the PC provided by ISA.

- We recommend you to bring either PowerPoint or Adobe PDF presentation files in a USB memory compatible with Microsoft Windows OS. The expected format of the presentation file is Microsoft Windows PowerPoint version 2003, 2007 or 2010. Speakers can also use their own computers for presentation. The session room computers will not have internet access or sound connection.

- If a presentation includes animation, it is recommended to use your own computer.
• Speakers are requested to upload their presentations to the session room computer, or to connect their own computer to the on-site projector, not later than during the break proceeding a session. Speakers will operate the slides themselves.

• The Japanese Local Organizing Committee invites you and your family to the ISA World Congress Farewell Party at the Osanbashi Pier - the Grand Pier - of the Yokohama International Passenger Terminal. http://www.isa-sociology.org/congress2014/congress-farewell-party.htm. Tickets JPY 3,000 can be purchased on-line through your registration link or at the registration desk in Yokohama.

The Practical Information part of the ISA World Congress web site includes information about: the congress venue, hours and location for registration (registration starts at 10 am on Sunday July 13), location of opening ceremonies and reception, the conference message board, along with details about electricity, Internet access, currency exchange and much more.

Currency exchange: in addition to the helpful ISA information, the Canadian Sociological Association has invited us to share the following, from a colleague who travels a good deal in Japan:

’[It’s] correct that it can be difficult to access money from foreign credit or bank cards in Japan. It’s still very much a cash-based culture, and places that take cards will often not accept foreign cards. In addition, many hotels will expect payment upon check in and while many will accept credit cards, not all will. In addition, many restaurants and other services will not take credit cards (other than the few geared at international tourists, which are better avoided anyways).

’The most reliable place to access money on foreign cards is the Post Office, which also serves as a bank of sorts. Post Offices will have ATM machines, with one or two signed as accepting foreign cards. At first, it can take a bit of navigating to figure out the interface and get things to work.

’I highly recommend getting enough cash on hand to make sure you can 1) get a train from the airport to your hotel; 2) check into your hotel if there are problems with your credit card; 3) be able to get around and eat for a couple days until you locate and figure out a cash machine. The easiest is probably to get cash [...] before going, and you should be able to do this at one of the currency exchange counters at[the] airport if necessary.

’It’s not that complicated once you figure it out, but can cause headaches if you’re unprepared.’

In addition, I understand that 7-Eleven convenience stores have ATMs for foreign cards (not credit cards). Also for changing cash of most currencies (not not American) you likely will get a better rate at home – i.e. before arriving in Japan.

Rail passes: If you are planning to do any travelling in Japan by rail, it seems that a rail pass is often the economical way to do it, so you are strongly advised to check out Japan Rail on the web for details in relation to your own travel plans.

Suica Cards (available at Narita and Haneda Airports) –swipe card for rail, bus and subway in the Tokyo (including Yokohama) and elsewhere. Check web site for details. More convenient ahan paying cash tho’ no saving. Balance on card & card cost (minus small service fee) can be refunded when leaving.
