News

Some parts of our Midterm Conference held in Thessaloniki (Greece) last June are published in the French Journal for Media Research http://frenchjournalformediaresearch.com/lodel/index.php?id=613 (it’s free on-line: we hope you will enjoy reading them).

Some other parts are to be published in a special issue entitled “Récits de la Crise, mythes et réalités de la société contemporaine” - L’Harmattan (collection Logiques Sociales) Paris.
- French sociologists answer Prime Minister Valls about “Culture of excuse”...

In France, in the context of “State of Urgency”, the Prime Minister “Manuel Valls” condemned sociology as participating to a supposed “culture of excuse” by working on explanations of the genesis of “Terror” and “jihad”. This medieval obscurantism was loudly answered by individual sociologists, like Bernard Lahire as well as by two professional associations of sociologists, AFS and ASES:

"La sociologie, ce n’est pas la culture de l’excuse !” Tribune de l’ASES et de l’AFS publiée dans le Monde le 14/12/2015

“Living Social Science” – a new concept
Aims and Scope
Sociopedia.isa is an online journal that publishes review articles in the social sciences. Entries provide a 'state-of-the-art' review of the literature on a particular topic. Sociopedia.isa provides 'living social science' as peer reviewed articles are published quickly after being accepted. In addition, entries are regularly updated and can be commented on. Since 2013, the 8-10 best entries of Sociopedia.isa are included in the annual review issue of 'Current Sociology'.
Sociopedia.isa was founded in 2010 as a joint venture of the International Sociological Association (ISA) and SAGE. Since its foundation, Sociopedia.isa has published more than fifty entries on a variety of topics. Some of these entries were also published in French and/or Spanish and/or commented on. Call for Book Reviewers

International Sociology Reviews (ISR)

International Sociology Reviews (ISR), an official journal of the ISA, is considering proposals for book reviews and review essays. The list of books available for review is constantly updated and can be accessed at the following link:
http://www.pitt.edu/~isrb/BooksReview.html

Reviewers must have a Ph.D., or at least be advanced graduate students already writing their doctoral dissertations. They must have sufficient expertise in the field of the book they propose to review. It is essential that they have good writing skills. ISA membership is not required.

In addition, we welcome proposals to review recent sociological knowledge produced in formats other than books, such as audio-visual materials, specialized workshops, special issues of other journals, electronic resources, debates in national or regional scholarly societies, and other formats and venues.

All reviewers must follow our guidelines and familiarize themselves with the skills required to do a good review, both of which are available through the link above.

Proposals to review books not listed on our site are considered, provided that they are relevant to ISR’s mission.

Proposals to write reviews of material not available in English are particularly encouraged.

All prospective reviewers must adhere to our ethics and conflict of interest policy: they are expected to not have close personal or collegial relations to the authors of materials they propose to review.

Unsolicited reviews are not accepted. Please do not send a review without first proposing it and having it approved by the editor.

Please send all inquiries or proposals to: isrb@pitt.edu
