

DMSNS-MMM Seminar Series
A joint activity of
ASA section on “Decision-making, Social Networks and Society”
& ISA Research Committee on “Micro-Macro Modelling” (RC45)

ISA Research Committee on “Micro-Macro Modelling” (RC45) is collaborating with ASA section on “Decision-making, Social Networks and Society” to launch a new series of online seminars with the goal of advancing our joint research agenda by featuring work on micro-macro linkages and on how the complex interplay of decision-making processes and social network dynamics shapes sociological outcomes.

For now this new series of online seminars has been called the “DMSNS-MMM Seminar Series” from the acronyms of the two sections’ names.

The first ASA/ISA DMSNS-MMM seminar will take place on January 30, 2026 (11am-1pm EST ; 8-10am PST ; 5-7pm CET) with the following program:

- “Networks at Work: Officer Diversity, Network Segregation, and Police Misconduct” – Linda Zhao (University of Chicago)
- “Micro Effects on Macro Structure: Identification, Interpretation, Mediation, and Sensitivity Analysis for Model Selection” – Jenna Wertsching (UNC-Chapel Hill), Scott Duxbury (UNC-Chapel Hill)
- “Rooted America: Immobility and Segregation of the Intercounty Migration Network” – Peng Huang (University of Georgia), Carter Butts (UC-Irvine)

The second seminar in this year’s series will take place on April 23, 2026 (same time as for the first seminar, with possible changes due to summer time lag), and focus on “Algorithms and Social Science,” with the following speakers:

- Marc Keuschnigg (University of Leipzig)
- Ana Macanovic (University of Utrecht)
- Mario Molina (NYU Abu Dhabi)
